

Lesson #14: Rhythm Exercises

The following exercises are meant to improve your rhythmic and reading skills. They are played in the first position. They use only a very limited pool of different notes, so it should be easy to find them with the notefinder, if you don't know them already. As always, accidentals are marked only once per measure, they then hold for the remaining occurrences of that note in that measure. (Refer to lesson 3 if you want to refresh your memory about that.)
